By ALLAN WICKLESSON
LONDON, April 21.—(CP)—Princess Elizabeth, her presumptive to the throne, performed the first official act of her coming of age today when she stepped forward on a parade ground "somewhere in the country" and received an 18th birthday present from the Grenadier Guards, the crack regiment of which she is colonel.

The blond, blue-eyed princess, wearing a "Guards" peaked hat, accepted from the lieutenant-colonel commanding the regiment a miniature of the King's color of the first battalion of the Grenadiers.

The presentation and the mounting of the guard were the only ceremonial observances of Princess Elizabeth's 18th birthday.

During the day telegrams and cables and other goodwill messages piled up at the rate of one every two minutes.

Sixty miles north of Imphal, fierce fighting continued for the town of Kohima and the communiqué acknowledged that the Japanese had succeeded in reinforcing their troops in that sector.

Chapter V

There is no problem concerning those defendants who are under the control of the United Nations. The armistice should provide for their surrender for trial upon proper demand. A serious problem will arise as to any accused who are tried to a neutral state. This problem will become large proportions since Bern, Switzerland, is only half an hour from Munich by plane. Mainz, Sweden, is only fifteen minutes from Stettin, and Spain is just across the border from France. Once in a neutral country, Nazis will claim the right of asylum, as the Kaiser claimed it in 1918. Unless steps are taken now to prevent it, the same immunity will ensue. There must be no sanctuary, reflective old age for the greatest disrupters in history.

INTERNATIONAL LAW
The military courts of each nation should have jurisdiction to punish all offences committed on their territory. The procedure, and punishment would be determined by the law of the nation in which the offence was committed.

Armed Forces Service Grants Are Extended

OTTAWA, April 21.—(CP)—An extension of regulations covering payment of rehabilitation grants to retired or discharged personnel of naval, military and air forces of Canada was announced yesterday by defence headquarters.

The amendment authorizes payment of grants to certain former members of the services, not previously eligible, and is retroactive to Aug. 26, 1959. It applies also to false retirement and discharged and includes the women's services.

THOSE INCLUDED

Formerly those retired or discharged by their own request, those retired or discharged for giving a false answer on enlistment or re-enlistment, and those who, upon retirement or discharge, were granted an immediate pension under the military pension act, were not eligible for rehabilitation grants, said the announcement.

These exceptions now have been removed, and as the result the only personnel not entitled to grants are those whose retirement or discharge is brought about by reason of a sentence of a court martial or disciplinary court, or by reason of a conviction by the civil power involving a sentence of imprisonment.

No grants will be paid, however, to personnel retiring from one service in order to join another, or to join any of the forces of the Allied Nations, but upon completion of 185 days' combined continuous service in any two or more of the armed forces of Canada, persons will be eligible for grants when they cease to serve.

Howe Tells House: Airlines Absorbed by CPA Will Be "Re-Established"

OTTAWA, April 21.—(CP)—Munitions Minister Howe said last night in the Commons that airline lines which were absorbed by the Canadian Pacific Air Lines will be "re-established" when railways are divested of their air lines.

Mr. Howe said "no business is going to be destroyed and there is not going to be any confiscation of property."

He was replying to a question of Hon. R. B. Hanson (P.C.-York Sun) who asked if the companies which "were to be destroyed or confiscated" had been destroyed or confiscated.

The government announced its proposed policy for domestic civilian aviation after the war.

(Mr. Howe announced March 17 that one year after the war "trans-Canada air lines would be formed from the Canadian National Railways and Canadian Pacific air lines would be divested from the C.P.R.I.")

"I have every confidence that the separation can be made without loss to those concerned," said Mr. Howe.

"Neither public nor private enterprise was consulted before the government's policy was announced," said the minister.

J. G. Deffenbacher (P.C.-Lake County) said he wondered why the minister "had changed his mind."

"In 1937 you said that railway companies were the ideal firms to operate airlines. Now you say it is the government's duty to take the ways should be developed as such and not as subsidiaries to the railways," he said.

Mr. Howe said he had gained much experience since 1937.

"I remember saying in 1937 that the ticket selling facilities of the railways would be ideal for handling the tickets of air lines," he said.

"A few months later it was obvious that the railways were unsuitable for handling air lines' tickets," he said.

"The policy of the government is to take the ways should be developed as such and not as subsidiaries to the railways," he said.

This would allow returning airmen to become owners instead of employees of air routes.

In reply to a question of George Graydon, Progressive Conservative house leader, Mr. Howe said business from all parts of Canada were flying to sponsor new air routes. Flying costs were no longer an interest in seeing new lines go into operation.

The industrial bank the government proposed to establish also might lend money for new routes. If returning airmen look advantage of these conditions they could in time become owners of air lines.

Mr. Howe said he believed there might be employment for about 25,000 men in civil aviation in Canada after the war. The military included ground crew and other personnel.

Aviation Policy Consistent With Parley Decisions

OTTAWA, April 21.—(CP)—The international air policy which Canada has proposed for after the war is "consistent with the conclusions reached at the Empire air conference in London last October," Munitions Minister Howe said last night in the Commons.

Mr. Howe, who last March 17 announced that in international conferences Canada would support proposals for establishing an international air transport authority with effective powers, said that the government's proposals were discussed at the Empire conference.

One of two changes were made in the documents, but there was no material change, he said in reply to questions of Progressive Conservative members.

Mr. Howe said agreements on international aviation had existed since 1920 and had been approved by Canada. They dealt with rules for international aviation, freedom of the air and safety standards.

It was felt at this time steps should be taken toward greater freedom of international air transport.

Canada was at the crossroads of all the important air routes of the northern hemisphere. If Canada refused to enter an agreement and denied the right of planes to fly over her territory, then every country in North America and Europe would seek bilateral agreements with her.

"Suppose we gave one the right to fly over Canada and returned another—would that lead to friendly relations?" asked Mr. Howe.

FREEDOM OF FLIGHT
Canada believed the countries of the world could enter into an agreement on freedoms like that allowing a plane or a friendly country to fly over another peaceful country, and freedom to refuel in another country.

There had to be international regulations respecting the right to passage and refueling. Canada had proposed other arrangements such as the right to pick up passengers in another country traveling to the country of the plane's origin. These freedoms could be exercised only by international agreement.

Mr. Howe said the proposals set forth in the air policy were not final and Parliament was not being asked to ratify them. Canada was not putting forth the policy secretly. She was the only country to have placed full details of her policy before the people. If agreement were reached, it would be the government would take responsibility for the

than the weight of bombs carried by a British raiding force only two days after the attack on Berlin. 1,770 tons of the record bomb load was dropped on the city and industrial centre in the Rhineland.

Another 500 tons of bombs were dropped today on northern France by American Marauders and Havoc bombers, of the type which had failed to return.

HUGE FORCE USED
More than 1,000 B.A.F. and R.C.A.F. bombers hit Cologne, the outskirts of Paris and two rail centres since this afternoon. More than 1,770 tons of the record bomb load was dropped on the city and industrial centre in the Rhineland.

The Nazis controlled Paris said this afternoon that they were constantly on the bench during the night while they were exploding "almost every minute" of the city.

"How many more of these might be seen shall we see," he said, "endure before the invasion starts?"

The main weight of the more than 4,000 tons of explosives dropped by the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. crashed on Cologne, industrial capital of the Rhineland and first city of the war to rock under the impact of a 1,000-ton bomb.

CANADIANS HIT LENS
Two-winged Mosquitoes simultaneously struck lightly at Berlin and Cologne, the night of raids in which is already over.

The R.C.A.F. bomber group provided the entire force of Halifax and Lancaster bombers which attacked railway yards at Lens, Canadian headquarters announced. The target was clearly identified as a great weight of bombs was dropped by the R.C.A.F. squadron.

Other R.C.A.F. Lancasters were the force which made the attack at Cologne.

In other operations during the night, the R.A.F. Halifaxes laid mines in enemy waters and Mosquitoes carried out low-level raids over a wide area of France and the Low Countries.

Only one R.C.A.F. bomber was lost.

FREQUENT MEETINGS
The forecast of frequent meetings and indicated they would be held in the Dominion capitals as well as in London.

Closing a two-day debate on Empire affairs, the Prime Minister declared he would not see any of the Commonwealth countries, except Eire, immediately after the war.

"Instantly, from all parts of the empire, are a immediate reception about which we must see," he said.

"There was no cry of pain, doubt or terror, but darkness was turned into light which will never fade away."

FREE DISCUSSION
The agreement in discussing as to how a greater volume of trade and a more harmonious flow of goods and services between the Empire and the United States is up for inter-empire consultation "on all serious occasions" will be discussed at the conference.

Grant Pensions To Dependents Service Women

OTTAWA, April 21.—(CP)—Pensions Minister Mackenzie yesterday tabled in the Commons an order-in-council authorizing increases in the pensions of women members of the armed forces.

The order, retroactive to July 1, 1943, also authorized the payment of a pension to dependents of an ex-servicewoman. Heretofore no pension has been payable to any dependents of an ex-servicewoman.

Provision is now made for payment of a pension to dependents of a servicewoman in the event of her death or in the event of disability.

The maximum rate of pension payable to the dependents of a deceased airwoman is $876 a year.

IN LINE WITH PAY
The increase in the pension rates to the service women would bring the rates in line with pay increases granted the women last year.

As is the case with the men, the various rates of pension would be the same for all ranks up to, and including, lieutenant in the army, or equivalent rank in the other services. Under the new order in council, a woman's pension would be the same as the man's of the same rank, or below, would receive $720 per annum.

At present, 25 women are receiving pension.

More than 100,000 men now stand ready to repel any Allied invasion, Berlin sources said.

European reports indicated that all was not well behind Hitler's front lines, however.

A Swedish Telegraph Agency dispatch from Oslo said a small vessel, previously an ammunition ship, "blew up" opposite the so-called Fortness quay at Bergen on the west coast of Norway and destroyed a number of buildings in a military area near the shore, including Haakon's Hall, one of the country's oldest historical monuments.

ARREST DANISH PATRIOTS
The explosion, presumably caused by a sabotage, killed at least 40 persons and injured hundreds of others.

Another Swedish Telegraph Agency dispatch, this one from Copenhagen, said Gestapo agents had arrested hundreds of Danish patriots in a surprise roundup that covered the entire country.

The Danish Home Service and the German command held a number of real-time invasion manoeuvres recently in Denmark.

Howe Announces:

Govt. Will Introduce Bill For Air Transport Board At This Session of House

By JAMES MCCOOK
OTTAWA, April 21.—(CP)—Munitions Minister Howe said yesterday in the Commons a bill will be introduced this session setting up an air transport board.

Authority over air lines now is maintained by the board of transport commissioners, which also has authority over railways. The government aviation policy provides for air lines being separated from railways after the war. The government policy, which looks to an international authority after the war, was criticized by Anthony Hyatt (S.C. Yereville) who said it represented an anti-Canadian attitude and would turn over Canadian rights to an unknown international power.

Mr. Howe said the powers of the air transport board would be set out in the bill. The government view was that air transport should be developed as such rather than as a subsidiary of surface transportation, and a similar view was held in all parts of New America.

"It is a different type of transportation. It requires a different type of supervision and a different method of operation, and we believe it is good business at present to make it an independent form of transportation," he said.

At the evening sitting Mr. Howe said he expected the air transport board would be a parallel of the civil aeronautics board of the United States. It would be within the aeronautics branch of the transport department and would receive its powers through the transport minister.

NOT INCONSISTENT
Views in the government statement of policy were not inconsistent with those expressed at a Dominion air conference in London recently. He said he believed the empire countries hoped to have routes to other countries and matters apart from purely empire routes had to be considered.

In domestic services the government policy was to allocate areas to separate air lines and give support to each in its area. This left room for small enterprise. The industrial development bank might aid the financing of returned men seeking to set up their own air lines.

At the opening of yesterday's sitting, Speaker J. A. Glen read a letter sent Hon. Ray Aherburn, United States ambassador to Canada, by President Roosevelt. The letter thanked speakers of the Senate and Commons for an expression of their attachment to the tradition of Canadian-American friendship.

MOTION APPROVED
The House passed a government motion for study of a resolution covering a bill to authorize the Canadian National Railways issuing securities not exceeding $10,549,500 to meet expenditures or indebtedness in the calendar year 1944.

Discussion of civil aviation policies arose on a transport department.

ment estimates item of $398,360 for operation and maintenance of municipal airports.

S. H. Knowles (C.C.F.-Winnipeg North Centre) asked if the government was to take over the Northwest Staging Route from Edmonton to Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, and operate it under TCA. It had been suggested that if TCA took control it would be unfair to CPA and the Yukon Southern Air line which had been encouraged to go ahead with development there.

Mr. Howe replied it had been made clear to the private operator that when a license was granted for the run it was temporary and that the government sometime would wish to operate the service with TCA. The Northwest Staging Route was part of international route and therefore would be operated by TCA.

"I would like to be quoted as saying that the government would take over the Mackenzie route on the route," he continued.

NO MACKENZIE TRAFFIC
At present there was no route down the Mackenzie river and it was not the intention of Transport Canada to take over landing strips there.

Mr. Howe said Canada had discussed civil air policy with the United Kingdom, the Dominions, India and the United States, and had stated her desire to take part in an international conference. He said he believed all nations considering post-war civil aviation had to take into account the bilateral conversations now were going on to reconcile views so that when the conference comes there will be hope of agreement.

"Canada is active in that direction, but it must be recognized that no group of small countries can have any great influence on the final outcome," he continued. "I think that we must question the wisdom of attempting to group the small countries together as a bloc to go into a conference of that kind."

Canada was the only country which had placed its post-war policy before the world in detail. He said the domestic air policy outlined by the government represented state monopoly and the same objective in industrial and socialist.

HELD ANTI-BRITISH
The government's international air policy as announced by the minister is anti-British, anti-British Commonwealth of Nations, and anti-Canadian," he continued. "It is a pro-internationalist policy, which will operate under a financial dictatorship. It is the location of the principle of the British Commonwealth and of Canada's sovereignty."

It was a move in favor of "world dictatorship under the authority of a world police force."

"I'm kissing each need for luck, dear."

Church Asks Health Plan Recognition

OTTAWA, April 21.—(CP)—Members of Christian Science churches in Canada yesterday asked in a brief sent to the Commons committee on social security that the treatment given by their practitioners be recognized under any national health insurance bill that may be adopted.

The brief said "it should be understood that Christian Science treatment is not, in practice, something that is only supplementary to the methods of prevention and cure, said the brief."

COMPLETE SYSTEM
"It is a complete system of prophylactic and therapeutic care embracing as it does the diverse methods of prevention and cure," said the brief.

An absorption by the government of funds which individuals normally paid to the Christian Science practitioners for his service would directly interfere with his income. As he had no other source of revenue it might eventually force him to discontinue his Christian Science practice.

The members asked in the brief, to be discussed at the next meeting of the committee, that any national health insurance bill contain a clause indicating clearly that no one need ever benefit the bill might provide.

The members said they "bowed."

Heydrich Killing Held "Inside Job"

NEW YORK, April 21.—(AP)—Belief "Hugman" Reinhard Heydrich was slain by members of his own Nazi secret police was expressed last night by Harold Kirkpatrick, a teacher of Pomona, Calif., who said he was an eye-witness of the bombing of Heydrich's automobile at Prague in 1942.

Kirkpatrick said two men wearing trench coats, one carrying a brief case, leaped in front of an official Nazi car.

"The man with the brief case leaped behind the car," Kirkpatrick said. "His hand flashed into the case and out. There was a terrific explosion."

"Assassination of Heydrich was an inside job, because of two unimportant employees, who were returned from internment recently. He did not have his usual escort of two additional cars containing armed men as a very indirect route to the city. Those two men knew he was coming. I believe Heydrich was murdered by members of his own organization."

French Hit Nazis In Sneak Patrol

WITH THE CANADIANS in Italy, April 21.—(CP)—In the second sneak patrol to the same position within four days, French-Canadian soldiers killed three Germans today. The scene was a house overlooking German positions within a 10-man French Canadian patrol took four prisoners Monday without firing a shot.

Wednesday night an Ontario regiment sent a patrol of company strength against German positions among a cluster of houses near the Adriatic and withdrew after four hours fighting in which they inflicted casualties and suffered some themselves. The action followed heavy artillery, mortar and machine gun preparation.

A German patrol of about platoon strength attacked a western company and was beaten off with losses.

Canada Elected To Govt. Group At I.L.O. Meeting

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—(CP)—Canada was elected to the government group on the Steering Committee of the International Labor Organization yesterday as all three groups of delegates, government, employers and employees, met for organization purposes. The employers' representative from Canada on the Steering Committee is Hugh MacDonnell, legal secretary of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, and for the workers' group, Percy Renshaw, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Full Publicity For All Cartels Asked by I.L.O.

By C. R. BLACKBURN

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—(CP)—The International Labor Organization, characterized by President Roosevelt as "the agent of decision and for the future of many social and economic questions," opened its 26th conference yesterday prepared to debate a recommendation that all Cartel agreements be given the "full searchlight of publicity."

A request that any peace treaty provide that Cartel agreements be registered "with an appropriate international authority" and be the subject of periodic reports to an international assembly in on the list of questions to come before the conference.

CLAIMS OF CRITICS
The convention agenda asserts that critics of Cartels believe they "check technical progress, inhibit new industrial development, protect inefficient vested interests and enable monopoly profits to be extracted at the expense of consumers."

Conference sources said they expected United States delegates, and probably those from large raw material countries such as Latin American nations and China, to agree with the cartel critics, with a defence of cartels to come from some European delegations. The convention is attended by 30 delegates and advisers from 41 countries.

A large party of government, employers' and workers' representatives are in attendance, including Labor Minister Mitchell.

AIMS OF CONFERENCE

In a brief speech yesterday accepting his unanimous election as conference chairman, Hon. Walter Nash, deputy Prime Minister of New Zealand and retiring New Zealand minister to the United States, put the aims of the conference in capsule form.

"To bring about the fullest collaboration between all nations in the economic field with the object of securing for all improved labor standards, economic adjustments and social security."

Calgary to Have New Large Park For Ball, Hockey

CALGARY, April 21.—(CP)—Work commenced Wednesday morning on staking and leveling the ground of Calgary's new athletic park, located on First Avenue and Fifth Street west, within 10 blocks of the business section of the city.

Known as Buffalo Stadium, the layout is being sponsored by the Buffalo Athletic association, who provided the Western intermediate hockey championship team of 1942-43, and the first winter sponsored a six team pee-wee hockey league, all of the past plan which it is expected will lead to developing sufficient high class players capable of winning both the Allan and Memorial cups by that time.

The stadium will be the home of the Foothills Senior Baseball league, and the Pee Wee baseball league during the summer, and three open air rinks will be utilized for Pee Wee hockey workouts and skating during the winter.

The scheme also provides for playground facilities for youngsters as well as a swimming pool.

Calgary already has one of Canada's finest and most up-to-date recreation grounds in Mewata Stadium, but this layout is confined solely to soccer, rugby and track and field events.

Mewata Park adjoining the stadium will be used exclusively for football.

As usual, Jersey City drew the largest gathering. Of the 51,206 tickets sold, approximately 25,000 were for the game between the 1944 pennant defending Maple Leafs and the Newark Bears.

At Newark, before 41,896 fans, the Newark Bears defeated the Jersey City team 4-3. The game was a 10th straight victory for the Bears.

Syracuse's big Jim Kuntz unfurled a one-hit performance to blank Rochester 2-0.

LaMotta to Fight Marshall Tonight

CLEVELAND, April 21.—(AP)—Jake LaMotta has come a long way in the leather-pushing industry in 31 months.

The rough-housing New York middleweight, generally recognized as the number one man in his division, was paid $200 for a Cleveland bout with Jimmy Reeves here last night.

A LaMotta-Marshall tussle has been in the making for several months and LaMotta's handlers finally signed for the match after Marshall, the top ranking active light heavyweight, agreed to move to Cleveland for a long fight.

Each fight figure or forfeit $5,000.

Now coach Glen Rouse, himself with a medical discharge from the army in which he served as a captain, has checked on spring training and found that of 23 on the roster, 18-18 of whom were on the squad last season—will be around next fall and 13 of the 13 returning lettermen in the letter classification.

Thus Arkansas will open the conference race next fall with more lettermen than any other school.

Arkansas Hopes To Have Strong Team Next Fall

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., April 21.—(AP)—The Arkansas football team, which has given the University of Arkansas prospects of a better showing in southwest conference football than before the war began making inroads on college rosters.

In 1941, when the United States was not at war, and 1942, when army trains had started taking stars right and left, the Razorbacks went without a single conference victory. Then in 1943, when Arkansas, without a single training unit like most of its rivals, used boys who were 4-F, too young for the draft or discharged from the army, the jockeys broke their losing streak.

Now coach Glen Rouse, himself with a medical discharge from the army in which he served as a captain, has checked on spring training and found that of 23 on the roster, 18-18 of whom were on the squad last season—will be around next fall and 13 of the 13 returning lettermen in the letter classification.

Hard-Hitting Unit Welcomes Adoption Intruder Pilots Winning Fame for City

By P. O. G. WILLIAMSON, R.C.A.F.
Written for The Canadian Press
SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, April 21.—(CP)—The announcement of the adoption of the R.C.A.F. Intruder squadron by the City of Edmonton received with great enthusiasm by the intruders.

The commanding officer of the outstanding squadron is an Edmontonian, Sqdn. Ldr. Harold Linton, a former school teacher who has already completed one tour of operations during the war and his navigator, P.O. Jim Franklin, Saskatoon, destroyed two enemy aircraft.

High scores of the intruders to date is P.O. L. Charlie Scherf, a member of the Royal Australian Air Force, who just completed his tour of operations with 7½ enemy aircraft destroyed. But his score is being threatened by another Edmontonian, P.O. Johnny Caine, whose total destroyed now stands at 10.

OTHER EDMONTONIANS
Another intruder pilot is P.O. G. N. Miller, Edmonton, and P.O. Bert Ford lives in Lacombe. A former commanding officer, Group Capt. Paul Y. Thavud, D.S.O., D.F.C., also lived in Edmonton a few years ago. Others among the intruders include P.O. L. Gordon Thompson, Sqdn. Ldr. Howard Cleveland, P.O. Doug Miller, all of Vancouver, B.C., Ldr. Bob Kipp, Kamloops, B.C., P.O. Herb Jones, Salmon Arm, B.C., P.O. L. Jimmy Harper, P.O. M. Sawyer, all of British Columbia.

Saskatoon has P.O. Paddy Roberts, P.O. L. Ed McGill, all from Brandon, P.O. Earl Beal from Regina, and claiming Winnipeg as their home are P.O. L. Tommy Anderson, P.O. L. L. Evans and P.O. Ted Widdows. P.O. L. Cliff Walker, from Fort William, has been reported missing.

Among R.A.F. members of the squadron are many who trained in Edmonton or at nearby British Commonwealth Air Training Stations and the squadron director, P.O. L. S. O. Beckland, former Canadian air champion.

Farmers Urged To Retain Feed

WINNIPEG, April 21.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner yesterday appealed to western farmers to halt exports of feed grains.

Lack of moisture throughout the west is serious," he said in an interview. He said it was too early to become "really alarmed," but that feed grains should be held "until we know what the situation is in mid-summer."

If there are no good spring rains it is possible that we will not have enough grain to feed our livestock."

Mr. Gardiner discussed the situation in western packing plants where there is an acute labor shortage.

Everything possible would be done to provide workers while the hog and cattle runs remained heavy. Farmers who can be spared from land work have been asked to stay in the plants and others who left for seeding, have been requested to return as soon as possible.

Indecency Charges Laid Against Four Members of Forces

OTTAWA, April 21.—(CP)—Four members of the armed services, two of them officers, of whom one is a Protestant army padre, and two army corporals, were charged in city court here yesterday on charges of gross indecency and were without plea or defence to date.

Accused were Cpl. Armand Lennay, 25, Ross Highway, 24, Capt. James Weir, 35, 100th Avenue, and two members of the R.A.F., stationed at Kingston.

Byssell Corbett, 26-year-old member of the R.C.A.F. stationed at Rockcliffe, will also be arraigned on a similar charge.

Professor Dies

LONDON, April 21.—(CP)—Prof. Jacob Hensling, since 1932 professor of Hegerian philosophy at the University of Leyden, has died in occupied Holland at the age of 70, it was learned yesterday.

He was a member of the League of Nations, and was known for his work on the execution, and deliberate terror tactics as the Germans advanced in the Netherlands. he that exist in the country of trial. The accused would come into the possession of the prosecuting nation either by capture, or by transfer under the armistice provisions, or by extradition. This is in accordance with the well-established principle of International Law.

However, in addition to these national courts, other tribunals must be created to try offenders whose crimes were committed against nationals of several countries in combination, for example, against several nations herded in one camp. There is also the type of case where the offense was committed against "stateless" persons, whose exact nationality is not certain.

Most important of all, there are the trials of prominent military and naval officials and civil authorities who determined major policies. This group would include heads of state and their chief ministers. Their offenses transcend the jurisdiction of the courts of any one nation. Even if any one nation might properly bring jurisdiction over such an offender, it should yield to an international court to be created.

Two kinds of international courts would be desirable. Representatives from the existing national military tribunals or commissions of the United Nations could be quickly created with the large dockets. Acting as a final appellate court and also as a court of the most important offenders would be an International Criminal Court especially designated for that purpose. The judges would be appointed in the same manner as those chosen for the Permanent Court of International Justice. It would be desirable, as has been recommended by Professor Sheldon Glanville, that neutral nations be invited to designate representatives on these international courts.

In this way these courts might represent the conscience of all mankind. Indeed, as has been pointed out by Professor Sheldon Glanville, that neutral nations be invited to designate representatives on these international courts.

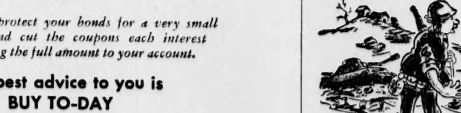

There remain one other form of restitution—labor. The dissolution of the German army, Schutzstaffel and Sturm-Abteilung groups among others, will affect at least four million men. Of these, hundreds of thousands will have been sentenced to jail terms by national and international courts. These sentences will range up to life imprisonment. Jail sentences should be served in labor battalions which will rebuild the devastated areas and help in the resettlement of families driven from their homes.

MAINTAIN BALANCE
Care must be taken to prevent too great an importation of labor which may injure the country to be restored. Just as the flooding of German reparations goods after the first World War injured the markets of the creditors, a balance must be maintained between the proper assistance required in the devastated areas and the unemployment problem in the assisted nations. The controls for maintaining such an equilibrium will be considered in the economic program to be applied.

But subject to this limitation, it is obvious justice as well as proper penalty that Germany should provide the manpower to rehabilitate the territories she has wantonly devastated. It was Frederick Froebel, the noted educator and founder of the kindergarten system, who said that children who destroyed other children's toys should be made to replace them with their own. Mere verbal chastisement is ineffective. The Germans have proceeded on the theory that real wealth is labor and they should be required to pay partly in that coinage.

In the first World War, almost all of the eight million dead were battle field casualties. In the Hitler war, it is estimated that four million civilians have been killed by ruthless race extermination.

The Inquiring Reporter

How do you think the possible May 1 emergency of providing housing accommodations for families that may be forced out of their homes should be met?

THE ANSWER
 ANDY GILBERT, taxi driver: I think the city should take the responsibility of finding these families suitable homes. As a matter of fact, I think there are a number of unfinished wartime houses on which completion might be pushed or in which at least temporary accommodation could be provided.

CPL. HARVEY BROWN: I think the city should take care of the householder who is forced out of their homes otherwise they should be allowed to remain where they are until they find other living quarters.

B.D.E. manager: As one who is in the unfortunate position of having moved out of my own house which was required because part of my family went into the armed forces, and am now renting a smaller house which must leave by May 1, I have no choice but to ask my tenants to leave until they can find other living quarters.

Nominating conventions are to be held throughout the province, and already have been scheduled for Camrose and Lacombe on May 1, and at Strathmore on May 2.

Loyal Edmonton Regiment L.A. Active for 4 Years

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Loyal Edmonton Regiment was organized in July, 1940, to provide comforts to the men of the regiment overseas, and has been active since that date.

At a recent meeting, a financial statement was read, showing that $482 had been spent on comforts. This has taken the form of a monthly allotment of cigarettes and other necessities to the men of the present time, parcels of food and other necessities to the men, as well as during the year, and many parcels of knitted articles, and many Christmas fruit cake, lined and sogged receipt of these parcels through Maj. J. R. Stone, M.C., at present second in command of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, and Maj. Allan Macdonald, a company commander. Treats are also forwarded to the holding unit in England.

When the regiment was still in England and not in need of many comforts, the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary sent the Navy, Army and Wings Club to become established in its new home by putting a tag day on them, and $17.25 was raised in this way. At this time also, the auxiliary assisted the Navy League to the extent of $321. They have also assisted the Loyal Edmonton Regiment in raising funds for their unit and shared the proceeds of a concert to raise money for the band. With their surplus at the end of one year, they purchased a $1,000 Victory Bond, which is being held in trust to be used for the men of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment.

$11,490 RAISED The total amount raised in the four years is $11,490. The expenses covered stationery, stamps, cables, and postal, have amounted to $112 and the expenses on activities to raise the above funds amount to only $1,614.

To raise funds to carry on this work, the auxiliary has one event each month, with the exception of the summer months. This takes the form of tag days, teas, home cooking sales, gymkhanas, bingo, dances and rummage sales.

At the present time the auxiliary is extending its work by subscribing magazines for the soldiers' wing of the University hospital and 4,000 cigarettes are being forwarded each month to Lt.-Col. W. G. Stillman in London in the form of a care package.

At present, the president of the auxiliary is Mrs. M. C. Mundy, who is also a secretary, and Mrs. J. R. Turner, wife of Capt. J. R. Turner, with the Edmonton Regiment Company of the holding unit, is treasurer. The balance of the executive is made of Mrs. John Michaelis and Mrs. D. A. Victor, both past presidents of the auxiliary; Mrs. R. W. Day, wife of the present commanding officer of the Regiment; Mrs. Alan Purvis, wife of Maj. Alan Purvis, with headquarters 5th Canadian Division in Italy; Mrs. G. L. MacLellan, wife of Capt. MacLellan, in Italy.

Any person interested in working for the men of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment is eligible to membership in the Auxiliary. New members are always welcome.

"Red Chevrons" Plan to Recall 1st Gas Attack

On the afternoon of Thursday, April 22, 1915, just 29 years ago, the battle began one of the greatest of many great battles fought in the first great war.

The date is significant to Canadians in at least two respects. It was the first great engagement in which Canadian troops took part; and it was during this battle, the Second Battle of Ypres, that the Germans first resorted to the use of poison gas.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock the following morning, on Friday, April 23, a corporal of the gallant 8th Battalion ("Little Black Devil" from Winnipeg), watching the enemy lines from a parapet, saw a heavy "mist" break out of the German line about a quarter of a mile to the left. Almost immediately it belched out all along the line, and there came rolling slowly with the wind what a German prisoner later described "with ghastly gleam" as the "mystical" error of an uncanny greenish wall.

History records of this "terror" of the gas attack. The Canadian Parapet and most notably he threw himself over the trench, where he caught the men just as they were "standing" in. In a moment they were coughing and choking, straining, nearly blind, in the faces contorted, and their bodies covered in agony.

That Canada's First Division held its own in the face of this attack is unknown and totally unprepared for new weapons is a matter of historical record. All the British newspapers paid tribute in various of the London Daily Mail's big headline: "The Canadian Save the Day."

OLD COMRADES
Tomorrow, Saturday, April 22, the 1914 Red Chevron Club of Edmonton, will hold a special event, together with old comrades of the British "Contemptible Little Army" who are members of the club, will celebrate the 20th anniversary of the 2nd Battle of Ypres with a banquet in the I.O.O.F. hall on 103 street. Practically every unit in the First Canadian Division, C.F.E. will be represented. Similar functions will be held on the same day all over the Dominion.

Major Gen. W. W. Foster, C.M.G., D.S.O., V.C., special commissioner for defence projects in North West Canada, will be the main speaker. The dinner will commence at 7 p.m. and will be preceded by a service conducted at the Cathedral at 6:30 p.m. Club caps and medals will be worn.

Daily War Map—Exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin

A chain of "command forts" as mapped above, for use as advance headquarters when the Allies attack, has been established for Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, commander of German anti-invasion forces in Western Europe, according to reliable information reaching London. The "forts," stretching from Brittany into Belgium, are strongly constructed, with deep underground quarters, are only 30 to 40 miles from the Channel coast.

Feels Optimistic Regarding West

"I have been visiting Western Canada for more than 40 years and I cannot recall at any time when there was more reasoned confidence in the country, or spirit of greater optimism about its future," D. E. Kilgour, Toronto, president and general manager, North American Life Assurance Co., stated on his arrival here Friday in the course of an inspection tour of the west. He is accompanied by E. H. Hanley, superintendent of agencies, also of Toronto.

He said that he had found the same feeling obtained both in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and that there was generally a sense of pride in the fact that the west was once more pulling its full weight in our Canadian economy.

"The war has done much to knit the various parts of our country into an indivisible union. The years of the depression had taught us that at heart the people of the west and the east were the same, and that they must work together to solve our common problems," he said.

Commenting on Edmonton Mr. Kilgour said it had always been one of the company's outstanding branches. He said they were particularly fortunate in being represented by R. E. Staples as branch manager, and also that the company was proud to have a member of its board of directors H. M. Miller, K.C., whose services to the company had been greatly appreciated.

Tory Candidate
SWIFT CURRENT, Sask., April 21.—(CP)—B. M. Hill, farmer and business man of Pennant, Sask., was announced today as the Conservative candidate for Swift Current in the forthcoming Saskatchewan general election at a convention here yesterday.

A second woman, who had accompanied the first witness to a case earlier in the evening, stated that she and a companion had followed some distance behind the complainant and her room when the latter couple "suddenly" disappeared. She did not see the complainant until the following morning, she said.

Walter Beaumont is acting for the defence.

Early Dentist Here Has 75th Birthday

After 33 years of practicing dentistry in his office in the Macleod building Dr. C. A. Raver, of 10826 123 street, is carrying on as usual today, on his 75th birthday. Dr. Raver says he is "keeping pretty busy these days and feeling fine."

Born in Omaha, Dr. Raver came to Edmonton with Mrs. Raver 33 years ago. He is a graduate of Northwestern University and the Chicago Dental Institute.

An expert marksman, the doctor is a keen duck hunter and says he can still shoot as well as ever. Dr. and Mrs. Raver have two daughters at home, who have arranged a birthday dinner in their father's honor. It will be held tonight.

Pageant of Labor Will Assist Loan

A pageant of labor in the Edmonton district will be the theme of a parade planned by the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council in support of the Sixth Victory Loan campaign.

The parade will be held on Monday evening, May 1, originating probably from the park square. The time of the parade will be 8 p.m.

According to present plans all stages of labor activities in the city and district will be demonstrated and vast numbers of the machines of labor will be on display.

One of the most colorful sections of the parade will be that in which the members of organized labor will parade in the national costumes of the racial origin.

Arrangements have been completed for the parade and several military bands, and spokesmen for labor said Thursday that the parade would be one of the highlights of the entire campaign.

Dr. Raver says he is "keeping pretty busy these days and feeling fine."
